Are you ready UWG faculty? NEH announced that they will be offering $17.4 million in awards and offering 205 humanities projects. There is no better time than now to submit proposals!

Inspire your students to a career in STEM—Great videos that challenge the misconceptions that still persist around the subjects with this great range of resources.

Got an excellent family cake or pie recipe that can't be beat? Put it to the test next weekend at the Carroll County Old Time Fair & Farm Days and enter it into West Georgia Living's Blue Ribbon Contest! Come by the Times-Georgian office to pick up your form, then drop off your delicious pie or cake at the fair, April 20, by 1 p.m.

Dr. Hema Ramanathan from the College of Education and Dr. Louis Howe from the College of Social Sciences shared their experiences with this world renowned exchange program to interested faculty. — at Ingram Library.

The second NSF TUES workshop will be held Thursday, April 18 from 3:00–5:00 and will cover Goals and Expected Outcomes. The goal of this workshop is to enhance the participants' ability to write goals and the corresponding expected outcomes for an NSF educational project so that they can more effectively address them in preparing proposals or in implementing funded efforts. Expected outcomes: Participants should be able to:

Please RSVP at the following link: http://doodle.com/mcaphfr3h3hfyeix

This week's NSF TUES grant series will include two workshops. The first will be held Wednesday, April 17 from 3:00–5:00 and will cover Broader Impacts.

The goal of this workshop is to enhance participants understanding of strategies for dealing with broader impacts in an NSF educational project so they can more effectively address this issue in preparing proposals or in implementing funding projects.

RSVP at this following link http://doodle.com/iwwkfnvk9up6d5m8
The Community Foundation of West Georgia is pleased to announce the availability of grant funds from the Katherine Trinka Davis Rynne Fund. The Trinka Davis endowed fund provides funds each year to address the needs of local veterans.

Please apply by clicking on the link below. All proposals must be submitted by May 15, 2013.

www.cfw.net

Are you ready as we are to see Phillip Phillips and the Neon Trees at UWG?

What's your favorite song by one of these artists coming to the Coliseum on April 19th? Tickets are still available!!!

The Office of Research and Sponsored Programs has created Google Groups "listservs" to disseminate information about grant opportunities and ORSP programming for faculty and staff. Information will be tailored to the needs and capabilities of each college, and participation is voluntary. Members have flexibility in how they receive information from the Google Groups, such as a single weekly digest email, an email something each time there is a group posting, or they may simply browse the archive.

email grants@westga.edu if you are interested in joining your College's listserv

Congratulations to Dr. J. Salvador Peralta! Dr. Peralta just received a grant from the National Endowment of Humanities Enduring Questions program! UWG students are in for a treat! The NEH Enduring Questions grant program supports faculty members in the teaching and development of a new course that will foster intellectual community through the study of an enduring question. This question–driven... See More
If the sky is as clear as it is out right now than be sure to stop by the West Georgia Observatory anytime between 9:30 and 10:30 tonight. It is located off of Plant Op Drive.

If the skies are clear, stop by the West Georgia Observatory anytime between 9:30 and 10:30 tonight. It is located off of Plant Op Drive.

Interested in finding out what movies and tv shows have been recorded in Georgia? Check out the Georgia Department of Economic Development’s pinterest board. Interesting to say the least!

The ORSP thoroughly enjoyed the final installment of “Good Librations” at Ingram Library. It was great to hear the faculty give talks on their recent publications.

http://libguides.westga.edu/goodlibrations

The ORSP thoroughly enjoyed the final installment of “Good Librations” at Ingram Library. It was great to hear the faculty give talks on their recent publications.

http://libguides.westga.edu/goodlibrations

The ORSP thoroughly enjoyed the final installment of “Good Librations” at Ingram Library. It was great to hear the faculty give talks on their recent publications.

http://libguides.westga.edu/goodlibrations

UWG’S Antonio J. Waring, Jr. Archaeological Laboratory will be hosting an open house this Saturday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Guests are invited to participate in hands on activities including an archeological dig. For more information about this lab including its address please check out their website http://waring.westga.edu/Southwire CEO Stuart Thorn and Lee Richards, vice-chairman of the board, were at the noon Governor's Awards Luncheon Wednesday at the annual Manufacturing Appreciation Week ceremonies in Atlanta.

metro Atlanta has recruited yet another film to its city. "The Good Lie" starring Reese Witherspoon is seeking extras. What a great opportunity for our community to take part in Atlanta's booming film industry! Check out the link below for details.

Fact of the day: Did you know China geographically spans over 5 time zones however, the country officially only adheres to one time.

Local Poetry Competition: The deadline for entries in the FICTION & POETRY COMPETITION for the 2013 Turner Cassity Literary Festival is May 1, 2013. Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place. The first place short story and first place poem will be read at the Cultural Arts Center. For more information call 770.949.2787 or visit our website – www.artsdouglas.org

Four out of the five Peachtree Road Race T-shirt design finalists come from UWG students! Have you voted for your favorite yet? http://www.westga.edu/~chronicl/articles/ptree.html

The Spencer Foundation is accepting applications for research projects that explore how student performance data informs classroom instruction.

Through its Evidence in the Classroom initiative, the foundation will award grants ranging from... See More Free digital preservation webinars!

First Aid on the Front Lines: Immediate Training Needs | The Signal: Digital Preservation blogs.loc.gov

First Aid on the Front Lines: Immediate Training Needs. A blog
Call for Photographers! The Audience Engagement Grant supports photographers to take an existing body of work on a social justice or human rights issue and devise an innovative and effective way of using that work as a tool for social change. See More

In 2000 MetLife Foundation and Repertorio Español joined forces to establish The MetLife Nuestras Voces National Playwriting Competition in the hopes of discovering new American plays by established and emerging playwrights writing about social justice issues. See More

The Kress Foundation, Samuel H. - History of Art Grants Program supports scholarly projects that will enhance the appreciation and understanding of European art and architecture. Grants are awarded to projects that create and disseminate specialized knowledge, including archival projects, development and dissemination of scholarly data, and so on. See More

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation is accepting proposals that apply the principles and frameworks of behavioral economics to persistent and perplexing health and healthcare problems. Proposals are encouraged from a range of disciplines, including but not limited to behavioral economics, decision theory, economics, public health, sociology, psychology, marketing, nursing, and medicine.

Projects will be for 2 years and for a total of $200,000.

Letter of Intent- Applicants must submit a 1,500-character proposal brief that describes the project by April 17th, 2013. Applicants that are invited to submit a full proposal will be notified on May 29th, 2013.
Through this solicitation, we seek innovative proposals that apply the principles and frameworks of behavioral economics to persistent and perplexing health and health care problems. We hope to discover new interventions and insight that have potential to dramatically improve the way health care is...

Like · Comment · Share

---

UWG Office of Research and Sponsored Projects shared a link.

March 28

The American Psychological Foundation is accepting applications from early career psychologists conducting research on early intervention and treatment for serious emotional disturbance in children.

Through its John and Polly Sparks Early Career grant program, the foundation will award grants of $10,000 to early career psychologists in support of scientifically based research or programs that can serve as models for replication across the country. The grants are meant to enc... See More

---

John and Polly Sparks Early Career Grant for Psychologists Investigating Serious Emotional Disturbance

www.apa.org

The grant awards $10,000 for research in the area of early intervention and treatment for serious emotional disturbance in children.

Like · Comment · Share

---

UWG Office of Research and Sponsored Projects shared a link.

March 4

Target is accepting applications from schools and nonprofit organizations for programs that bring arts and cultural experiences directly to K–12 students. The company awards grants of $2,000 for programs that enhance the classroom curricula... See More

---

Grants for Arts, Culture & Design in Schools | Target Corporate

corporate.target.com

Enrich student education with music, art, dance and drama by applying for an Arts, Culture & Design Grant from...

Like · Comment · Share

See More Recent Stories

About · Create Ad · Create Page · Developers · Careers · Privacy · Cookies · Terms · Help

Facebook © 2013 · English (US)